A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening, all Councilors being present except Councilor Taylor.

The minutes of last meeting were read in order and duly passed.

Councillor Eitson was appointed Deputy Mayor for the months of August, September and October.

In connection with the new fire at the C.P.D. a letter was read from Mr. Stockton expressing appreciation of the efforts of the Strathmore Volunteer Fire Brigade and many other willing helpers.

Mr. Stockton asked to make plain his appreciation of the generous help received.

The Town Council by resolution placed on record their appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by the Fire Brigade in keeping the fire within bounds.

The fire destroyed a building 20 feet of height, so that the event of fire every part of the town can be served.

The Council gave O. K. to an application for restaurant license from J. Patterson and Willie Woe.

The Secretary Treasurer was re-elected.

FIRE DESTROYS C.P.D. BUILDING SATURDAY NIGHT

On Saturday night, a fire broke out at the C.P.D. Headquarters in a warehouse just south of the machine shops.

The alarm was turned in and the Fire Brigade responded promptly and under the direction of Acting Chief Fred Anderson delivered a most effective service.

The origin of the conflagration was not very clear but it is thought was caused by a short circuit.

Soon the flames spread to the big barn south of the warehouse.

The bucket brigade did most effective work and were successful in preventing the flames spreading.

STRATHMORE DEFEATED OLDS ON SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon a large crowd of baseball fans were present at the final game in the playoff series with Olds, when a most interesting contest resulted, with Strathmore carrying off the honors by winning the game 10 to 7.

Jack Crellin did the twirling for Strathmore for six innings during which time he had the pitchers from Olds well in hand until the sixth inning when they opened up a heavy barrage and succeeded in tying the score, which almost brought on heart failure for the local supporters and left Ben Foy and Edna White in a total state of collapse.

Edna Crellin who had been playing a stellar game at short center to his younger brother's assistance and proved the undoing of the "Professors" who were helpless in noting his delivery.

Hector McGregor who did the twirling for Strathmore, performed his work in big league style and when he was the batting pitcher he lost the fair mix were delighted with his effective support.

Gene Giroux who has been studying up Babe Ruth's style of batting delivered two nice home runs.

The pride of the local team was "Grand Dad" Knight whose batting eye was as keen as it was 20 years ago, when he was the batting idol of the Bow Valley, and any boy how he can find his position at second.

One of the Olds twirlers, Gene Foy, who was the pitcher for the Professors and was given good support.

One of the Olds twirlers, most efficient umpire and was greeted by many of his old friends in Strathmore.

HIRTLE'S THEATRE

Maude Eburne, character actress who attained over night fame as result of her work in the stage play, "A Pair of Sixes" was selected by Paramount for the part of Miss Eburne in "This Reckless Age".

Miss Eburne has been in Hollywood for a year and "This Reckless Age" is her thirteenth film role and her first for Paramount. She will be featured in the cast of "A Pair of Sixes" with Charles Baidy Rogers, Richard Bennett, Charlie Ruggles, Frances Marion, Frances Dee and Frances Starr.

This Reckless Age, based on the play by Lewis Beach, is a story of parental sacrifice and of selfish children, who with their combined efforts, represent this selfish, unconventional age of young people. The extravagant and wild life in contrast to their parents' ideas, furnish many dramatic situations that are tense and heart gripping but frequently interpreted with pathos and humor and where it started and prevails it is a happy laughter. WOMEN'S INSTITUTE CONSTITUENCY CONVENTION

The Eleventh Annual Convention of the Women's Institute of the British Empire was held on Tuesday, August 2nd at Moosehead, with the Arrowwood and Moosehead Institutes as hosts.

There are nine Institutes in the constituency and representatives are present from: Greenwood, Young, Simpson, Nicholson, London, Strathmore, Arrowwood and Moosehead. There was a very large attendance of numbers and those interested about making being present at the Convention.

The program was opened by the singing of "O Canada" followed by the presentation by Mrs. McCube of Greenwood.

Community singing of familiar songs at intervals led by Mrs. Mary of Moosehead was interspersed with reports of Institutes and some very excellent papers, which latter both in the Convention and the Home Institute go far to make the Institute a real benefit to its members.

Mrs. Duncan Clark of Calgary, constituency Conventioneer, presided at the meeting in a very pleasing and efficient manner.

Seated with her on the platform was Mrs. Campbell of Milk River, District Director and the Secretary.

The first item of business was the reading of minutes of the last annual Convention, which were adopted as read. Next followed the report of the Sheep Institute and the Girls Club read by Mrs. Annie.

This was an exceptionally fine report showing much activity and vigor for their club. Mrs. Annie also spoke the very good plan of having the Vice President preside at every third meeting.

A paper on Canadian Industries prepared by Mrs. Stoddley of Nightingale was read by Mrs. Knapp. This paper also was very interesting and informative.

A paper on "Out of the Dark to You" by Mrs. Barker of Sheep was very pleasingly rendered as was the paper on "The Future of the Canadian" by Mrs. Clark.

The address of Mrs. Clark was most encouraging and pleasing. She expressed thanks to all for the interest and information.

MOSSLEIGH

Being always interested in the origin of names given to towns, a visitor to the Convention at Moosehead Tuesday last was curious as to the origin of the pretty name Moosehead, and on enquiry we learned that the name was originated by Mrs. Moss, a resident some 20 or 25 years ago and at one time Post Mistress. She combined with her husband's name of Moss that of her maiden name, Leigh and so evolved the very pretty name Moosehead. Mrs. B. B. of Moosehead and Mrs. B. B. of Moosehead are daughters of the above named lady. The late Adam Smith, one of the first professors in the University of Toronto, was a son of Mrs. Moss, and a member of the Moosehead family.

Several beautiful fields of wheat, some of which were the property of Mrs. B. B. of Moosehead, were shown to the visitors.

MUCH GREATER DEMANDS BEING MADE UPON BRITAIN

Ottawa—While Great Britain remained on a free trade basis there is much wider freedom for discussion and for negotiation than in earlier conferences.

Two Dominion Premiers, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Mackenzie King, have availed themselves of this freedom to put up sweeping propositions to the British Government.

These propositions are made quite frankly in the interests of the people of the Dominions. The Prime Ministers of Canada and Australia see an advantage to be gained if they can get still further concessions in the British market; and they are not to get them from the British Ministry.

The British delegates have thus far spoken in general terms; but now that specific propositions have been put forward, they will undoubtedly answer in kind, and the long and perhaps tedious process of negotiation will begin. The British delegates are also aware that the British Government will not be asked to make any concessions that will be of no benefit to the British Empire.

Major of Strathmore, Strathmore, Alberta.

I wish to thank you for the prompt response to our fire alarm the night of July 30th, and to say that we appreciate the efforts of the Strathmore Volunteer Fire Brigade and the many other willing helpers.

It took the combined efforts of the organized firemen, our own staff and the volunteer helpers to contain the fire to the building where it started and prevent it from spreading to our shops and other buildings. This is a big task to

HEARD ON THE STREET

Grandma—Yes, I feel much better now, and I don't think there is anything wrong with my appetites. But it was nice of the minister to call and see about it.

Daughter—But mother, that wasn't the new minister, that was a specialist from the city who examined you.

Grandma—Oh, he was a doctor, was he? I thought he was a little familiar for a minister.

Daughter—

"I think perhaps I'd better ask the people next door to have this done with us tonight," said the young suburban housewife thoughtfully.

Her husband looked up from his newspaper rather sharply.

"Good gracious!" he exclaimed. "What ever for?"

"Well, the doctor left this note here by mistake, and I think it's only fair," she replied.

The girl called into the street and dropped her bag on the counter. "Give me a chicken," she said.

"Do you want a pig?" the stockbroker asked.

"No," the girl replied. "I want a carry it."

A mother was discussing with her daughter the qualities of men.

"Oh," said the daughter importantly, "but they have no self control."

"All the better," replied the mother. "If they had there would be a great many more spinsters."

Wife—That's the kind of husband I have! Did you hear?

Husband—My dear, have I ever deceived you of the pretence of looking at $20 hats?

What did you learn in Sunday School today dear?

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.

When on his way to evening service the new minister of the village met a rising young business man of the place, in whom he was anxious to interest in his church.

"Good evening, my young friend," he said solemnly, "do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes indeed sir; every Sunday night," replied Mike, "I'm on my way to see her now."

The night was dark. It was raining hard, in the sweep of the lights a car showed up ahead, off the side of the road, leaning at a perilous angle. Just the situation for a good Samaritan.

Coming to a stop, the conscientious motorist leaned out of the window.

"Are you in trouble, my friend?" he asked solicitously.

"No," said Joe Thillie, "just in love."

She was trying to be nice to the little girl whose mother was a great friend of hers.

"I hope you are getting on well at school," she said. "Now, I wonder if you can spell lamp?"

"I could if I wanted to," replied the little girl. "But don't you think it's rather old fashioned?"

I heard of a man treated for lung trouble who died of heart failure.

Nonsense, if I treat a man for lung trouble he dies of lung trouble.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CROP PRICE GUARANTY

Take advantage of this offer . . .
Get the new equipment you need to reduce your production costs

Many farmers who need new machines for the economical production of their crops have been reluctant to buy them because of uncertainty as to the prices they will receive later in the year for these farm products.

In order to meet this situation, the International Harvester Company of Canada, Ltd., offers to farmers purchasing machines after this date, a definite price guaranty on wheat based on 77 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Winnipeg, applying to a liberal portion of the purchase price of the machine. If the market price for wheat does not reach the guaranteed price at the time payment becomes due on notes given and maturing this year, the purchaser of machines under the plan will receive a credit equal to the difference.

Any farmer in Canada, regardless of where he lives or what he raises, can purchase McCormick-Deering farm machines under the terms of this offer.

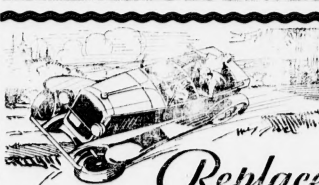

This is your chance to replace wornout and obsolete equipment on a favorable price basis. Let us explain the details of this remarkable plan and tell you just how to take advantage of it in equipping your farm with the new cost-reducing machines you need at a real saving.

PROGRESS OF ECONOMIC CONFERENCE AT OTTAWA

Mr. Thomas Clarke says: The first week of actual work at the Ottawa Conference has almost cleared the road for definite progress to the focal point. That it has not done so completely is due, apparently, to lack of exchange of specific demands. The bargaining process is being approached with hesitation, for the simple reason that once the offered bid is on the table the hand is disclosed. If the disposition were to ensure the maximum of benefit to the exporting countries rather than to maintain certain of the minimum of demand to those importing, the road would be easier. There is, of course, no desire on the part of any delegation to withhold advantages from the others, but evidently the hope is to balance by a quid pro quo any concession granted. Accordingly, each would like to know the demands and offers of the other before making a like contribution. Every delegation wants to return home with nothing to show; in fact, the feeling is that it must, hence the cautious proceeding, slowing the initial week.

The wishes and ambitions in the various countries are known in a general way, and in some instances definitely enough. Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia have told what they want. Canada has said it desires a preferential Empire market for natural products and some manufactures; more details are awaited. Mr. Baldwin's statement on Thursday said the representatives of the United Kingdom "have put frankly and fully to the Dominions the articles on which they desire to secure further advantages in Dominion markets; and they will welcome from the Dominions an equally full statement of the corresponding advantages they seek in the market of Great Britain."

Even when the lists are complete for purposes of negotiation, there has to be decided not only what is to be done about them, but how. Parliament will have to make tariff adjustments to implement whatever arrangement is agreed upon, and it will be important to determine whether the preference is to be created by lowering the duties on the articles affected or by raising them against the rest of the world. Great Britain has asked for the former method, but here again is the question, whether the same policy can be applied effectively in every case. Some commodities on which Britain wishes a larger market in Canada may, and probably will, be fabricated from foreign raw materials, also used by other countries with lower manufacturing costs. Under a low tariff Britain would be confronted with this competition in the Canadian market, but obviously to the advantage of the Canadian consumer. With all British materials and processes it would be beneficial all around, possibly to build the preference on a comparatively low base, for it would assure the market and help to keep the price level down. The point is that the methods adopted as well as the commodities affected, will require examination before the public can learn the final results.

The currency and exchange questions enter into the entire fabric of the negotiations. A strong committee has taken over the task of making recommendations, but doubt has been expressed in authoritative quarters whether conclusions can be reached applicable to the Empire separate from the findings of any the world economic conference. Canada is evidently between the upper and the nether millstones, on the question, anxious to tie more closely to Britain, but already tied to the United States by heavy obligations, interest and principle, which have to be met on the basis of United States currency. It is obvious, of course, that some sort of exchange stability must be established for Empire countries to maintain smooth commercial relations, and this carries with it financial stability in the countries separately.

Readers of The Globe have been kept informed of each day's progress, and must have noted satisfaction that Canada is to receive concessions in the Empire market for important natural products. Notwithstanding that the opening week has been one of preparation, the willingness of the United Kingdom to meet the Dominion generously has been demonstrated. The true spirit has been illustrated, even with details awaiting consideration and discussion.

The second week should be one of definite progress. Thoughtful failure is out of the question. If Conference will succeed because it must. It is to be hoped the bargaining spirit will not interfere with success in a momentous task.

DALEMEAD

The annual McKinnon reunion and old timers picnic was held on the site of the old McKinnon ranch last Saturday afternoon on July 30th. There is no local event of greater interest than this, not least there is a location more favorable for a successful event than the McKinnon Ranch on the Bow River. The day was ideal for the occasion and the some three hundred folk who were present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Paper A G Reed was a favorite of the day, the skill of the pipe adding considerable color to the affair. Miss Mary Dixon and Miss Jean Chalmer entertained with the Highland Fling to the tune of the pipes later on in the afternoon.

Baseball seemed the favorite sport of the afternoon. No less than six or seven games being played during the course of the day. The most popular of the day was that played when the McKinnon family played against the picnic at large which resulted in a win for the former. Later on in the afternoon another game was played in which members of the Calgary U. F. A. and other members of the association versus the picnic. Mr. Cooke playing at second base found the game quite an strenuous as politics, while Norman Priestly as is his usual wont was equally busy in the field.

The evening afternoon was completed when the ladies served a very sumptuous repast. Mr. W. L. Hall of the Calgary U. F. A. called upon Mr. Donald McKinnon during this diversion, who on behalf of his parents Mr. and Mrs. L. McKinnon expressed appreciation of seeing so many of the neighbors and old timers present and hoped that with its yearly recurrence would see an ever increasing number of folk present.

The following were amongst those present for the occasion: Mr. and Mrs. L. McKinnon; Mr. and Mrs. G. Cooke; Nanton; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Garland; M. P. J. C. Buckley; M. L. A. Gieseler; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Priestly; Calgary; Mrs. James Priestly; Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKinnon; Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Salmon; Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Irving; Calgary; Mr. H. B. If I lend you a dollar will you pay it back by Friday?
"Yes, even if I have to work to earn it."

THE FARMER AND GASOLINE

Why should the Canadian farmer, producing at a loss, tolling, resulting, wondering how to make ends meet, have to pay the cost of a tariff on gasoline? Should it not be considered fair that the Canadian farmer, faced with selling his products in the markets of the world where the world price is the determining factor, should be entitled to the lowest possible price for gasoline, a product that is used largely on Canadian farms, especially in western Canada? Why should the Canadian farmer have to pay more for his gasoline than the farmer on the United States side of the border except the margin of marketing and transportation costs? This is a matter for the consideration of the farmer. Can he afford to go on paying the present price for gasoline? Is he to continue to make himself the goat for those who say that no matter what happens in the world they will receive protection?

BAINTREE

Baintree Athletic Club met the Nightingale Nine at the McLean Ranch, suffering a close defeat of

1 to 2. The game, though slipped in place, showed occasional flashes of snappy playing, with Baintree leading in this department, but lacking in scoring power. After much bickering and argument over strange rules the game finally ended with the Nightingale some turning to a crowd over their triumph. Arrangements are being made for another game in the near future, while Baintree fans are certain to see their team strip the feathers of the Nightingales. The address of Mrs. Campbell of

Mill River, District Director was a long one and full of over with age advice and interesting information. She began by saying she was much pleased with the work in general of the W. I. She congratulated the hostesses on the most interesting and artistic

Handicraft Exhibit which was dis played in the hall. She stated the ability of people to stand up under depression is evidence of the character of the people. A good effort must have vision, courage and a regard for the country's traditions. It is the

of the soil and not the gate that sells them where to go," etc.

A ladies' quartette from Arrow

ood gave a very pretty song which received a well merited response. They responded with

Josephine's "Flirt."

An exceedingly well patric

Mrs. P. Fulton read the report of the Ladies Institute which has done much good in the way of re lief and social activity. They have a membership of 25.

A concise and most interesting paper on Legislation, was given by Mrs. Kemper of Arrowwood. She

all sides.

The Federal Govt. has made the crime of kidnapping punishable by 25 years imprisonment. Abduc punishable by from 7 to 14 years. This was a very excellent paper.

A resolution brought in from London to the effect that where

$1 to 50 cents per annum. This motion was carried after considerable discussion.

A very strong and clever paper on the League of Nations was given by Miss Siegel of Mossleigh.

It would be impossible to give the strength of this paper without giving it in full. It is likely to be read at other meetings.

But this was evident that if the spirit of this paper could be spread there would be no more war.

Mrs. Reed of Mossleigh gave the report of this Institute which was most interesting and showing much good work accomplished.

Mrs. McCabe of Queensview gave her report which also showed at
